Discover Trška Gora

A unique wine-growing area with the highest number of vineyard cottages per surface area in the world, nestled on picturesque slopes. All paths lead to the top – to the Church of the Nativity of Virgin Mary, the recognizable symbol of Trška Gora. From an elevation of 428 meters, enjoy the panoramic view of the Dolenjska region and rest in the shade of linden trees over 400 years old.

Experience the landscape actively

For a stroll among vineyards and an escape from the city bustle, there are numerous marked hiking and cycling trails. The Three Castles Trail will reveal the ancient secrets of the castles Otočec, Stari grad, and Hmeljnik, while a walk along the Slak Trail will introduce you to the story of the famous accordion virtuoso Lojze Slak. To help you conquer the steep hills, e-bikes are available for rent.
